

Some prescription drugs may result in higher out-of-pocket costs for you and your family. This guide may help you lower those prescription drug costs. If you, or any covered family member, are prescribed or are currently taking a higher-cost drug identified on this list, you may wish to speak with your provider to lower your out-of-pocket costs. In most cases, over-the-counter (OTC) medications ($) will be your lowest-cost alternative; first ask your provider if this is appropriate for you. If an OTC drug is not appropriate or available, you can present this list to your provider to determine if a lower-cost alternative will meet your needs.

As always, your provider is best qualified to balance effectiveness with cost considerations in selecting a prescription drug. The final prescribing decision rests with your provider; changing to a lower-cost drug is voluntary. If you have any questions, please contact WellPoint NextRx Customer Service at 866-841-8951.
